

WTW Aviation Products Expansion (APEX) Solution

Program highlights and benefits:

The WTW Aviation & Space team are pleased to announce a new, exclusive partnership with AIG Aerospace to deliver an enhanced Aviation Products Liability insurance solution for WTW's U.S. clients. AIG was chosen through a competitive comprehensive market-wide RFP process to identify the optimal supporting insurance partner.

The APEX program is:

- Competitive: Competitive pricing plus pre-negotiated coverage enhancements inclusive within the standardized policy and endorsements forms
- Adaptable: Commitment to provide additional quote enhancements when applicable
- Efficient: Prompt delivery of quotes and services
- Consistent: Multiyear rate guarantees
- Added Value: Access to WTW Global Aviation & Space services including Clarity on Demand, WTW Research Network webinars, and industry events

Eligible classes:

The WTW APEX program is available to all single-carrier Aviation Products Liability placements, including:

- Aviation component manufacturers, suppliers, distributors and service providers
- Manufacturers with unknown or indirect aviation products exposures (e.g., manufacturers of entertainment systems, lighting, overhead bin fasteners, tools used in the building of aircraft or their components)
- Any size of operation
- Any premium amount (no minimum premium threshold)

Ineligible classes:

Aviation companies whose exposure requires a quota-share (multiple-carrier) Aviation Products Liability insurance program. Examples include airframe and engine manufacturers.

If ever in doubt, ask us to review your program.
